Special Enrollment Period for the Loss of Medicaid Extended

Idahoans who have lost Medicaid coverage have until Nov 30, 2023, to enroll in health insurance through Your Health Idaho

BOISE, Idaho – Idahoans who lost their Medicaid coverage during Medicaid unwinding can now enroll in coverage until November 30, 2023, through an extended Special Enrollment Period.

The Special Enrollment Period (SEP) for the Loss of Medicaid coverage has been extended or re-instated for any Idahoan who lost their Medicaid coverage during Medicaid unwinding, which began in February of 2023. Idahoans whose 90-day SEP has ended now have a new SEP, effective immediately through November 30, 2023, to enroll in health insurance. Idahoans still within their 90-day SEP also have until November 30, 2023 to enroll in coverage. Once enrolled in health insurance for 2023, coverage for 2024 will be automatically renewed.

“We are excited to be able to offer Idahoans who may still need health insurance the chance to enroll in quality coverage through Your Health Idaho and encourage them to take the steps now to find the plan that best fits their needs. Once enrolled in a plan for 2023, they don’t have to do anything for 2024; they will automatically be renewed in coverage,” said Pat Kelly, Your Health Idaho Executive Director.

Notices will continue to be sent with options and the steps to enroll in coverage. Idahoans who do not need health insurance for 2023 but are looking for 2024 coverage can enroll during Open Enrollment, which starts on October 15. Your Health Idaho is the only place to apply for and receive a tax credit that can pay for some or all of your health insurance monthly premium. Cost Sharing Reductions available on Silver plans is another way to help lower the cost of coverage.
